Carnations and little favors decorated the card tables laden with turkey and all the trimmings when the Rol Stones, Howard Melchins, Howard Rasmussen, Rex Meeks, Jack Evans, Milo Vances, Fritz Dahls, Lincoln Woods and Bryant Heningers and Shirley Kings were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fairbanks Saturday evening.

Book was played during the remainder of the evening with the prizes for the ladies going to Dorothy Dahl and Dora King for High and Low and Bryant Heninger and Jack Evans took the men's prizes.

Give To Conquer Cancer

One of these fine Spring Days, so full of life and hope, you may well be approached by a volunteer of the Canadian Cancer Society who will ask you to contribute to the Cancer Crusade.

What manner of being it this volunteer?

Young or old, married or single, tall or short, male or female, the volunteer represents all religions, races, nationalities and creeds. Coming from every level of our social and economic strata this volunteer is quite a person. We're proud of him. We're proud of her.

Together, the untold thousands of volunteers who these days ring doorbells and buttonhole passers-by, form a citizen-army which leading the fight — our fight — against the great national enemy, cancer.

In spite of recent, encouraging progress in the treatment of cancer the fight is still far from won.

It is a fact that cancer, which strikes one in five Canadians, is still the most mysterious of human diseases. We

Due to the efforts of Mrs. Norma Meldrum, Mrs. Norma Zobel and Mrs. Margaret Schneider, a rural school lunch was organized last summer with the consent of the school board. It was decided by the parents to serve a hot dish and bread and butter to rural school children at a cost of fifteen cents. The school board supplied the Opera House and the facilities. These ladies have really pioneered the project and under extreme difficulties at times. They have now established one of the best rural lunch systems in the Province.

After a successful launching of the project with Mrs. Schneider as cook, Mrs. Ellen Winkler and Mrs. Stan Cook were then hired by the committee for the remainder of the term. Anne Turner acted as cashier.

The committee wishes to take this opportunity to thank these ladies for their excellent co-operation and service which made the project so worthwhile. We also wish to thank the school board.

Mrs. Virginia Wilde and Godfrey Holmes were later added to the committee.

With approximately two hundred and fifty rural children attending Raymond schools a project of this kind is a vital necessity.

The project was a success financially. The surplus of money acquired will be donated to a worthwhile community cause in the interests of all the children.

The project has now been taken on as a private enterprise by Mary Thompson and Rose Melchin. The committee wishes them continued success.

Library Contract Awarded To T. K. Roberts & Son

The contract for the construction of the Memorial Library here has been awarded to T. K. Roberts and Son, of Lethbridge with a bid of $13,738.08. This includes everything but the shelving and light fixtures. Plans call for some of the present shelving to be used in the new building and for part of the present library to be retained as storage and work rooms.

The building will be 44x50 with two rest rooms, an office, a record room and lobby along the south wall with a stairway connecting it to the present library.

Word on the new library will begin immediately and it is hoped to have it completed within two or three months.

Others submitting bids were: Holte and Nordland, $14,363; R. Osterburg, $14,600; Bird Construction, $16,163; Paul H. Redd, $19,027.63; and Oland Construction, $15,677.

Last Saturday 27 Air Cadets of the local Squadron went to Lethbridge to have the pleasure of being taken aloft in an aircraft sent especially for that purpose from Edmonton. The Dakota took half the boys up at a time and flew over town with them — one group was lucky enough to have the weather clear enough for them to be taken over the St. Mary's Dam project. The boys and the six civilian drivers all enjoyed the experience except a certain young jeweller in town who had a little bit of an upset tummy just before the plane landed.

While at Kenyon Field the Cadets were taken on a tour of the Flying Club Hangar and the Control Tower which they found to be very interesting.

Flt. Lt. Bob Zobel, Commanding Officer of the local Squadron was in charge of the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Greep of Castlegar were visitors in town last week at the Court and Greep homes while here for Gladys Greep's wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Roberts have returned from a very enjoyable visit in Salt Lake and other points this winter. As well as doing a lot of Geological Research, they met a lot of relatives in Southern Utah.

Their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. David (Lillian) Stewart of California and their five year old daughter spent a few days with them during Conference week in Salt Lake. Mrs. Roberts' sister Mrs. I. J. Hanson of California also visited them.

Although the Roberts are happy to be back, it was rather a shock to leave fruit trees in blossom, green grass and flowers and be greeted by cold winds and patches of snow.

Engagements Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Flexhaug of Lethbridge announce the engagement of their daughter Jean, to Jack Lehr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lehr of Medicine Hat.

The marriage will take place on May, 13th in the Stake House.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stevens announce the engagement of their daughter Alice to Kenneth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Garner.

The marriage will take place on May 6th in the Alberta Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Holt of Calgary are happy to announce the birth of a baby daughter, Marlene Edith, who joined her three brothers on April 2nd.

Mrs. Eldred Hudson and Blaine drove up to Calgary over the week-end to attend the Graduation Exercises at the University of Alberta Branch. Gerald Hudson has completed his first year and plans to start teaching this fall.

Jim Hudson, who also graduated, as a Bachelor of Education, received a special award for Outstanding Merit in Practice Teaching in Industrial Arts.

Boxing Card Staged Here Recently

The Boxing Card recently staged at the Opera House under the auspices of the Raymond Branch of the Canadian Legion and the Raymond Amateur Athletic Assn. was a resounding success as far as the spectators were concerned. Too many other places to go and things to do reduced the number of paid admissions to where the financial profit of the evening would not burden down a small boy. As in many things — the operation was a success but the patient died and it would come as no surprise to many that boxing will have to go the long way if more paid admissions are not recorded at the box-office come next fight card.

Seminary Bill was the capable man for the event and started things off with the introduction of the officials. Frank Miles of Lethbridge, who has long been a booster for boxing in Alberta, was one judge; Cardston's Ron Holland, who is one of Alberta's youngest accredited judges, and a former champion boxer, DeLoy Clark of Stirling filled the other chairs with Rayo Woolf taking over as relief man. Max Heggie was the time-keeper assisted by Honorary Time-keeper Jack Emery of Lethbridge, President of the Alberta Boxing Assn.

Refereeing the bouts were Ralph Robinson of Lethbridge, Glen Adamson of Stirling and C.J. McClain.

In the first fight of the show Chuck Whipple met Jake Friesen in the 70 pound class and after three rounds of chasing by young Whipple the judges declared him the winner.

Right from the beginning Bill had the crowd applause the loser as well as the winner — a good idea and a move toward fostering good sportsmanship.

In the 84 pound class Laddie Pafka of Barnwell proved to be too much man for Davey King of Lethbridge. The first round showed sporadic action with most of the initiative being taken by Pafka who scored telling blows early in the second round to floor Davey for the count.

Garry Harris of Barnwell and Ronnie Minion were matched in the 90 lb class with Minion's superior height and reach making it hard for Harris to do anything. Minion scored a knockdown in the first round and also in the second when he was awarded the fight on a T.K.O.

Some of the fans kicked up a bit of a fuss when referee Robinson counted to eight on the first round knockdown but were appeased when Bill Nalder explained the rule making it mandatory for a fighter to take the eight count after being knocked down.

Bout No. 4 saw Robert Scott of Lethbridge and Jimmy Walker mix it up for three crowd-pleasing rounds. Both boys drew blood and traded some hard punches to make this one of the cards best. Scott drew a win by a very close margin.

Alphonso Bird of Cardston and Malcolm Kitbaugh of Lethbridge were well matched in the 112 pound class and although they were slow to start with Kitbaugh taking the initiative the Indian lad showed some smart footwork and considerable boxing ability to gain a decision.

The flying knee and a few low punches by Bob Trochki of Cardston could very well have been the reason for his defeat by Bert Vicks of Barnwell.

Mrs. Mac Nishiyama is now employed at Melchin Motors.

Mrs. Herb Wilde and children and Mrs. Percy Cope spent the week-end in Lethbridge visiting at the home of Mrs. Cuthbert Cope.

Early Pioneers Here Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Anderson marked their golden wedding date recently in Tooele, Utah.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were married in Raymond, Alberta, Canada, December 31, 1902. The ceremony was performed by the father of Mrs. Anderson, Joseph S. Bevan, who was a member of the L.D.S. ward bishopric in that community.

The Bevan and Anderson families went to Canada under call of the L.D.S. church to colonize that area and establish irrigation. Mrs. Anderson was 15 at the time of her going and was married at the age of 17 on her birthday.

In her own personal record, Mrs. Anderson writes the following interesting account:

"We were married at my father's home and attended the New Year's Eve dance at the church, following which we went to our own home consisting of one room which my husband had built himself. The house and lot was clear of debt. We also had money enough to buy four horses and machinery for spring farming. We also had 80 acres of dry land and 10 acres of irrigated sugar beet land.

After 14 years in Canada we home-stayed one year in Montana. In January, 1916, we started in business in Tooele on Sunday, October 27th, 1929. I was set apart to be counselor in the South ward Relief Society with Emma Hanks as president and Pearl Gillespie as the other counselor."

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson was witnessed in Canada, by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Walters, who resided at Raymond at that time, but returned to Tooele shortly thereafter. Mrs. Walters is an aunt of Mrs. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson had the privilege this past summer to visit at their old home at Raymond and again seeing the home in which they were married, which was the third home built in that city.

Mr. Anderson still continues as an active Tooele merchant, and Mrs. Anderson, besides being the mother of ten children, has been a gifted poetess, having created many fine verses during her lifetime, one of which is picked at random and here published. It was written in May 1946, at the close of World War II, in which three sons served:

MY PRAYER

Today I thank Thee, O Lord,
For Blessings given me,
For the beauties of this earth
That stretch from sea to sea.
Most of all I thank Thee, Lord,
For the health that I enjoy
And for the ending of the war
And bring home our boys.
Protect me Lord in all I do,
May I be guided right,
To Thee I give all thanks today
For a happy family life.

They have eight of their ten children living to honor them on their golden wedding, namely: Mrs. Thelma Charles, W. Bevan Anderson, Mrs. Fern Gillette, Richard Blaine Anderson, Ross Anderson, Max Anderson, J. Wilson Anderson, all of Tooele, and Mrs. Gable Kirk of Salt Lake City. They also have eighteen grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

— Tooele Transcript Bulletin

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Flexhaug had as their dinner guests on Sunday Mrs. Flexhaug's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Les Castles of Lethbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thompson entertained at a family dinner last week when Marie and Lucile were home from Calgary for the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Deb Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bowden, and Mr. and Mrs. Les Robinson were also guests.

Yvonne Jones Has Spring Wedding

An early evening wedding was solemnized in the Stake House on Wednesday, April 8th, when Yvonne Rose, daughter of Albert Jones and the late Mrs. Rose Jones, became the bride of Jerry, the son of Frank Bartosek and the late Mrs. Bartosek. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Snow against a background of Easter lilies, daffodils and colored streamers.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march by Roi Stone, was lovely in a white gown which was fashioned with a net yoke and long sleeves while the satin bodice which made a sweet heart neckline effect was edged in seed pearls. The full skirt was of net over satin, and her illusion net fingertip veil fell from a coronet sparkling with seed pearls and sequins. The bridal bouquet was of red roses.

Mrs. Mildred Attwood, wearing a mauve net gown and a white carnation corsage, was Matron of Honor while Mrs. Eleanor Peritt, who chose a blue taffeta gown and pink carnations, was her other attendant. Donny Lou and Bobby Rae Zobel as Flower Girls in yellow and green taffeta carried nosegays of pink and white carnations.

The Groom's attendants were Steve Bartosek and Bob Peritt, and during the signing of the register, Jim Weaver sang "Because".

A reception was held immediately following in the Recreation Hall with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Evans greeting the guests and Mrs. Geraldine Tiplack presiding at the Guest Book. Dorothy Stone, Shariene Graham, Shariene Sommerfeldt and Grace Selman arranged the numerous gifts.

A lovely Buffet style lunch was served with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Galbraith acting as hosts and Joy Litchfield, Pat and Peg Rasmussen, Marlene Wilde, Nadine and Norma Meldrum assisting with the serving. Mrs. Helen Babb was in charge of the lunch. The wedding cake which graced the table was embedded in green smilax and flanked by white tapers.

Charlie Perrett of Stirling was Master of Ceremonies for the program which consisted of a vocal solo by Grace Selman, followed by a Reading "To The June Bride" by Mrs. Lucy Stevens. A piano solo was played by Doug Stone after which Lyn Galbraith gave a Reading "Home", following which Mrs. Velma Bigelow sang "Be My Love". The program ended on a humorous note with Mrs. Stevens' Reading, "Gift From Heaven".

For their honeymoon trip to Great Falls, Mrs. Bartosek donned a mauve suit and black accessories. Her corsage was of tulle and roses.

The newly-weds will make their home in town.

About sixty guests called at the home of Mrs. Elsie Williams last week to honor Mrs. Ross Campbell at a Bridal Shower. A gay afternoon was spent playing games which included a Quiz by means of which the important events in the Bride's life were learned. Mrs. Zelma Innes, assisted by Mrs. Iona Winters, was in charge of the entertainment and a lovely lunch was served by Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. Campbell, nee Bertha Caldwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Campbell of Hillspring, became the bride of Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Campbell of Raymond, in the LDS church in Lethbridge recently.

They are making their home in Lethbridge.

Hospital Auxiliary To Hold Bazaar

The Hospital Auxiliary are holding a Luncheon, Bazaar and Pantry Table in the Second Ward church on Friday, April 24th from 3-7 p.m. and we would like to have the support of the public in this community project.

This is the beginning of our organization's second year and we would like to express our thanks to those who have helped us in any way to our past year successful.

If any woman in our hospital District desires to join our organization she will be welcome. Memberships will be accepted at this luncheon or at any time during the year for those who desire to join us.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hague had as their guests this week, Mrs. Hague's sister Jean Flexhaug who is working in Medicine Hat, and Jack Lehr.

Mrs. Hazel Hervey was hostess to her Sewing Club when they met this week for an evening of chatting, sewing and lunch.

Gladys Greep Weds Coalhurst Man

On Friday, April 10th, marriage vows were exchanged between Gladys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Greep, and Lance Corporal George (Bud) Hurrell of Coalhurst. Bishop Dahl officiated in the Second Ward Relief Society room in the presence of relatives and close friends.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a pale blue afternoon frock to which was pinned a corsage of white and pink carnations. Her accessories were of navy blue. Her only attendant was Pearl Clifton, also in blue frock, and wearing a corsage of carnations.

Jim Greep was the Groom's Best Man.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Alice Court sang "O Promise Me" and Sweetest Story Ever Told."

CANADIAN GARDEN SERVICE by Gordon Lindsay Smith

Easy To Specialize - One of the things that makes gardening such a fascinating hobby is the almost unlimited range of interests. There is room here for specialization and original work in literally hundreds of directions. And the cost is nominal, a few cents for seeds, and a little observation and pleasant exercise. Anyone can soon become an expert along certain lines of his choosing. Some people like to concentrate on rock gardens, others on window boxes, or an extra fine lawn of, say bent grass. Others go in for rare dwarf plants or special borders of various distinctive colors. Still others accept the challenge of shaded quarters and with tuberous begonias and other plants that actually prefer to keep away from the sun. The seed catalogues will help in choosing plants for any of these special purposes and, of course, for the more advanced there are all sorts of special literature. In this sort of thing it will help to choose a plant or line that seems to have a special liking for the soil or other conditions available and, of course, it should be more or less a personal favorite, too.

Chemical Fertilizers - In recent years, gardeners have turned more and more to chemical fertilizers. These are clean, easy to use and powerful. They are made up of three main elements, nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, with the proportions of each expressed in formulae of three figures thus, 4-8-4. The first of these boosts the green growth above the ground and is especially valuable for lawns, lettuce, cabbage and other leafy vegetables. The phosphoric acid encourages the growth of starch and sugars, flowers and seeds. Potash balances the other two and helps maturity. When vegetables are stunted or misshapen it is usually a sure sign that the soil is deficient in potash. Commercial fertilizers should be used carefully according to directions and worked into the soil close to but not usually touching the plants or roots. With them alone, plus some humus or green manure, one can maintain the quality of garden soil indefinitely. Even where soil is naturally rich, or animal manure is available, a little chemical fertilizer will be found useful for pushing growth fast, or as a stimulant or pick-me-up after transplanting.

Screens and Backgrounds - There is a wide assortment of annuals, both tall and climbing for screening or background purposes. These plants will reach two to ten feet high in a few weeks. In most seed catalogues along with date of flowering, hardiness and other factors, will be listed the mature height and usually some indication of the speed these flowers grow. In the tall category are cosmos, hollyhocks, giant zinnias and marigolds, spider plants, ornamental sunflowers and many others. Planted well apart and in good soil these will form a blossoming background for the regular flowers and will hide practical bits of the backyard we do not wish every passerby to see. For the same purpose one can also use annual climbing things like nasturtiums, sweet peas, scarlet runner beans, morning glories, annual hops, etc.

Power Saves Labor - Where one has more than the average sized lot, a garden tractor and a power lawn mower will save a lot of time and hard work. These machines are not expensive and, given a minimum of care, they will last for many years. They will do the work at least five times faster than by hand. It is a mistake to purchase too large equipment, especially in tractors. The smaller types are much more easily handled. Experienced gardeners also advise buying more and smaller power units, rather than a big tractor with a lot of attachments.

Winnipeg-born tenor George Murray made up his mind to be a radio singer before he was out of high school, and after years of hard work he is now considered one of the top entertainers in the business. After making a name for himself in the West, he went to Toronto in 1939 to find a larger audience. Since that time he has been gaining recognition as a successful singer on a number of CBC network programs. On top of this, he has turned up in a number of CBC dramas, particularly in parts calling for an actor who can sing. When he's not busy at the studios, Murray likes to get out with rod and reel. In Toronto sporting circles he's known to be a very enthusiastic fisherman.

An Open Letter to the Citizens of Raymond

Since taking over the dairy business here from Alma on August 1st, 1952, we have endeavored to give satisfactory service to the milk users of our town. To the best of our knowledge we have done so.

At the present time the situation here is such that we find it extremely difficult to justify the continuance of our milk delivery. We have been offered a very good price for our milk elsewhere and unless we are given some protection by the Town Council with regard to people selling milk we feel that we must accept this proposition.

For your protection our dairy and milk is inspected regularly by a Provincial Inspector, and all we ask is that we be given the protection of a Town of Raymond Dairy License.

MISS LILA ENGBERG

SEWING COURSE

The Fort Macleod Country Beavers held a one day sewing course in their South Macleod Community Hall recently. Fourteen ladies attended bringing sewing machines with them to sew samples and to work on their own garment problems.

The Conquerville Women's Institute held a similar sewing course for two days in their school Home Economics class room.

These courses are held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Much of the time is spent upon such items as choosing fabrics and patterns, getting a good fit and making alterations, preparing the fabric by preshrinking and straightening, and sewing tools and techniques.

HOW LONG WILL IT KEEP?

How long do you keep foods in the refrigerator and still keep their good quality? Keeping quality of a perishable will depend on its condition, and also on the temperature and humidity of the refrigerator. Wrapping foods correctly and keeping them at the right temperature can affect their storage life. The center storage section of a refrigerator is normally 38 degrees F. to 42 degrees F. The area just below the freezing unit is colder for storage of meats, poultry and fish.

The bottom of the refrigerator is warmer and better for vegetables.

The atmosphere of the refrigerator is very dry unless you have a cold-wall type. Refrigerated food that tends to dry and shrivel should be kept covered to retard evaporation.

Here is a table from the U.S. Department of Agriculture showing storage conditions and how long some perishable foods are likely to hold good quality if quite fresh when refrigerated:

Milk: keep below 45 degrees F. Use within 3 days for best quality. Soft cheese; keep in closed container in coldest part of refrigerator. Will keep approximately 1 to 2 weeks. Fresh meat, fresh meat cuts, ground meat, liver, variety meats; store loosely wrapped at 30 degrees F. Storage time for pork cuts somewhat shorter than for other meat cuts. Use ground meat in 1 day, variety meats in 2 days, fresh meat cuts in 3 to 6 days. Cold cuts, sliced; wrap in semi moisture proof material, such as waxed paper, and store at 30 degrees F. Use within 6 days for best quality. Fresh fish; store loosely wrapped, at 32 degrees F. Use within 1 day for best quality.

If you prepare food for large crowds in your community, perhaps some quantity recipes would be useful. Next week I'll have some for you.

Dr. Robinson speaks out of personal and exceedingly painful personal experiences. He believes that the body is its own best physician and that much disease is entirely preventable and that many handicapping ailments (as in his own case) may be overcome by natural and non-expensive methods.

well in the 121 pound class. The Cardston boy was a footwork artist and was able to penetrate Vick's guard almost at will in the first round but got a terrific jolt in the second round that floored him. The third round was one of the best as far as the crowd was concerned with a great deal of excitement and flying leather filling the air.

Before Hugh Tallow of Cardston and Johnny Osha of Lethbridge, 156 pounders, were through with bout number seven they were both covered with blood and smothered in the cheers of the fans. Tallow, with an over-hand chop from a one-foot hop was a bundle of dynamite and he was up against a load of T.N.T. Although yours truly out-weighs either of these boys by a small fighter he would hate to be in the ring with either of them—they are both pretty sturdy pieces of humanity. The gory battle ended, with the crowd crying for a knock-out, with a popular decision for Tallow.

In the battle-royal three young lads from Raymond entered the ring against two from Barnwell and one from Stirling. In this battle of the luckiest it took Doug Hirsche only one minute and five seconds to clear the ring. Howie Whipple and Slugger Flexhaug were his fellow citizens in the ring.

The fight between Gordon Davis of Cardston and Carl Henkle of Lethbridge didn't take up much of the fight card. The bob-and-a-weave of the Lethbridge boy proved to be too much for Davis who was counted out at the one minute, forty-seven second mark of the first round of the bout of the 147 pounders.

Eddie Le Baron, 80 lbs. of Barnwell, carried the fight in the ring and the decision home in his fight with Marvin O'Sullivan of Macleod. The first round was even with Le Baron doing the most fighting in the next two. In the third round an upstart that had its start in the Macleod area didn't land here-in Raymond although if it had Mr. Le Baron would have been carried from the ring.

Alfred Standing Alone from Cardston didn't take long to bring blood to the face of Leonard Valander of Macleod in the 119 pound fight that save considerable action but failed to fire the enthusiasm of the crowd. Alfred was the aggressor throughout and the winner at the end.

In possibly the best fight of the night Garry O'Sullivan from Macleod and Bill Hillman from Lethbridge tangled in the 126 pound class. It was a rough and tough go with each battler scored two knock-downs. Hillman hit the deck early in the first round and again in the second with O'Sullivan also taking the eight count twice in the second. Again the crowd cried for the knockout that didn't come O'Sullivan won the decision.

The expected didn't materialize in the fight between two Indian boys from Cardston in the 108 pound class Earl Healy and Ralph Weasel Fat mixed it up pretty well in the first round and continued to do so throughout with both boys covered with blood. It was a good, hard fight but not much of a crowd pleaser with the decision going to Weasel Fat.

In an exhibition of boxers with more experience than enthusiasm Ralph Sabey, Barnwell and Magrath, and Hugh Court were matched in the 160 pound class. Ralph suffered a split lip but body punches were the feature of the fight. Sabey won the decision.

The final bout of the evening saw Ralph O'Sullivan from Macleod and Steve Gedrasic of Stirling start the first round as a crowd pleasing preliminary to the main attraction expected in the following rounds. Instead there were lots of clinches with a few hard punches but nothing much to excite the fans. O'Sullivan was awarded the decision.

Sorry to be so late in getting this in the paper—we'll do better next time.

Saturday evening from 6:30 to 8:30 Jazelle Meeks was honored at a Trueman Tea at which Geraldine Kenney presided at the Guest Book and Mrs. Idale Kenney and Mrs. Beth Galbraith assisted Mrs. Meeks with the delightful lunch.

After admiring the lovely items displayed, lunch was served at tables decorated with apple blossoms and pussy willows.

During the evening the bride-elect was presented with a Bride's Book made by the groom's sisters.

must all join the CCS volunteer in helping science continue and expand its tremendous research program.

It is also a fact that the number of lives saved last year could have been doubled if the Canadian Public were armed with the essential facts about cancer. We must help the Cancer Crusaders to continue and expand the effective program of education now under way.

It too is a fact, and a heartfelt one, that cancer caused untold suffering and pain last year. Again, we must join the Cancer Society volunteer in maintaining and increasing a humanitarian program of service to cancer patients.

Through these three programs the Canadian Cancer Society cancer eventually will be brought under control. To speed that day, meet the crusade volunteer with an open heart and a generous pocketbook. Literally, Cancer Society volunteers are fighting our battle for us. We should not let them fight it alone.

The Second Ward Senior Aaronic Priesthood members are having a wonderful time at the Second Ward Church each week when they meet for an evening of fun and instruction. Last week the Joe Strongs were in charge of a few square dances, after which Mona Palmer showed films on the Book of Mormon.
